THE INTER-PORT CRICKET MATCH | leg from Lowson. In the latter's next over ! HONGKONG U. SHANGHAT. The N. C Daily News writes :- That most important element, the weather, being propitions, there was a full and enjoyable day's pricket on the 21st September, when the fifth encounter between Hongkong and Shanghai was commenced at the S.C.C. ground. The match had of course been anticipated with great interest, and although the executive had made preparations for a large attendance, they were inadequate, a very considerable proportion of the foreign population of the settlement being attracted by the prospect of genial sunshine and good cricket. The summer dresses of the numerous ladies present gave additional brightness to the scene; and the selections by the Town Band, under Chev. Vela, were much enjoyed. There was one change in the advertised sides. Stow, who was suffering from an injured hand, standing out of the Shanghai team in favour of T. Wall on. The wicket, though a little slow during the first hour or so, was in excollent condition, and was in the batsmen's favgood fortune to win the tom; and his men were lace to bat. butting four hours and three-quarters, scoring at the average rate of a run a minute throughout. The total of 268 was more than seemed probable at one time, four of the hest batsmen on the side being out for 88; but then a fine etand by Boyle and Barff broke the back of the bowling and aided the batamen who followed to make useful scores. Boyle, who was top scorer, played thoroughly good pricket, exhibiting great patience at first. and subsequently hitting hard when opportunity offered. Barifalso let out vigorously, but he was lucky in being missed early in his innings The Hongkong captain played faultless cricket, and Lowson's 37 was particularly meritorious for a batemen suffering from a bad leg. But for this, his score would certainly have been larger; and his efficiency as a bowler will be im paired to-day. The Shanghai captain adopted the policy of promptly taking off any bowler who came in for punishment, and this cansed a great number of changes in the attack. The fielding was good so far as picking up and throwing in were concorned, but the Hongkong total would have been a good deal smaller had all the phances been accepted. bertson sourcely kept wicket up to his usua form, and St. Oroix was out of place in the slips; but the two Moules, Orman, and Loos fielded admirably throughout. Shanghai made a good start in the short time left for play after the conclusion of the Hougkong innings, and as the wicket is still in very g od condition, the home team are quite likely to do as well as their opponents, if no rain falls in the meantime. Details of the play are appended : (pavilion end) and Nichol. indeed it was remarkable. But it was all along the straight lines of nature. She had suffered all her life from indigestion and dyspepsia, and her other ailments arose from that, and that alone She could not digest her food, and the whole system was perishing from the poison in the stomach and from lack of nutrition. Mother Siegel's Syrup did its one work, it cleaned away the corrupted matter and set the digestive organs (the liver, stomach, and bowels) in natural operation, and immediate improvement and final recovery followed as necessary consequences. Especially should the render notice the close resemblance between the symptoms of dyspepsia and those of consumption, through which most unhappy mistakes are constantly made. Never conclude you have consumption until you are sure it isn't dyspepsia. The chances are that the result will be the same as in Mrs. Jones' case.
